as part of Progetto Cultura

 MUSICOM

The Vox Imago multimedia series is a project created by Intesa Sanpaolo as part of Progetto Cultura. Each edition, issued annually, presents a significant title in the opera repertoire and seeks to stimulate, promote and spread an understanding of opera through the most modern media.

Since 2019, Vox Imago has been in digital delivery. The documentary, the video selection and the complete audio recording of the opera, the synopsis and the libretto, the listening guide, the study guide and the book (also available in paper format, but in a limited edition), plus essays and historical sources: all the contents listed are now available on the portal www.voximago.it and through the Vox Imago app (for iOS and Android).

Inspired by the principle of producing a common good and making it useful to the greatest number of people, Intesa Sanpaolo makes all editions of the series available free of charge to institutions and libraries, who can request them by sending an e-mail to:

editoriamusica@intesasanpaolo.com

Enrolment for the module Tools for libraries offers users who request the digital delivery editions for libraries and public reading places the opportunity to access all the multimedia contents for the whole duration of the loan.

HOW TO SIGN IN?

Access the site
www.voximago.it,
at the page Libraries,
click on "Sign in"

In the “Tools for libraries” section, click on “Volumes” to register your copy, including the code found on the label applied to the cover of the cahier.

1.

From the drop-down menu, choose the title and language of the volume 2.

Enter the code, hyphens included

3.

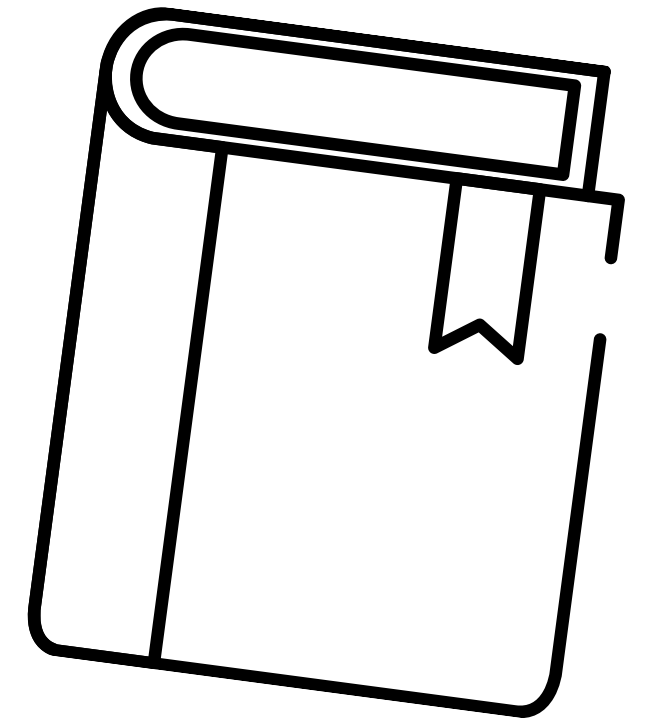

Personalize the notes field to suit your needs (e.g. classmark of the volume)

4.

Fill in all fields and click on “Add volume”

The image shows two screenshots of the VOX IMAGO website. The top screenshot displays the 'Tools for libraries' section with a white arrow pointing to the 'Volumes' link in the navigation menu. Below the navigation, there is a section titled 'ALL EDITIONS' with a large image of an ornate interior. The bottom screenshot shows the 'Add volume' form. On the left, there is a sidebar with the text 'TOOLS FOR LIBRARIES' and four buttons: 'HOME', 'VOLUMES', 'CODE MANAGEMENT', and 'HELP/FAQ'. The main content area is titled '> VOLUMES > ADD VOLUME' and contains the following fields: 'Choose opera' (a dropdown menu with 'Donizetti Don Pasquale 2019 - ITA' selected), 'Insert your code (hyphens included)' (a text input field with a placeholder 'XX-XXX-XXX-XXXX'), 'Add note or marking' (a text input field with 'optional' entered), and a large 'Add Vox Imago volume' button at the bottom.

If you have successfully registered your copy, it will appear in the “Volumes” section.

PLEASE NOTE

If you delete a volume from the list of registered volumes, you will also delete the code associated with it, so deleting the ability to create temporary codes for users of your library.

In this section you can also:

EDIT the notes you entered on the volume

DELETE the volume from the library service

TOOLS FOR LIBRARIES

Create a temporary code

In the “Code Management” section , you can create a new temporary code starting from one of the volumes already registered.

1.

From the drop-down menu, select the loan volume and click on “Create new code”

2.

Complete the notes field, to suit your needs

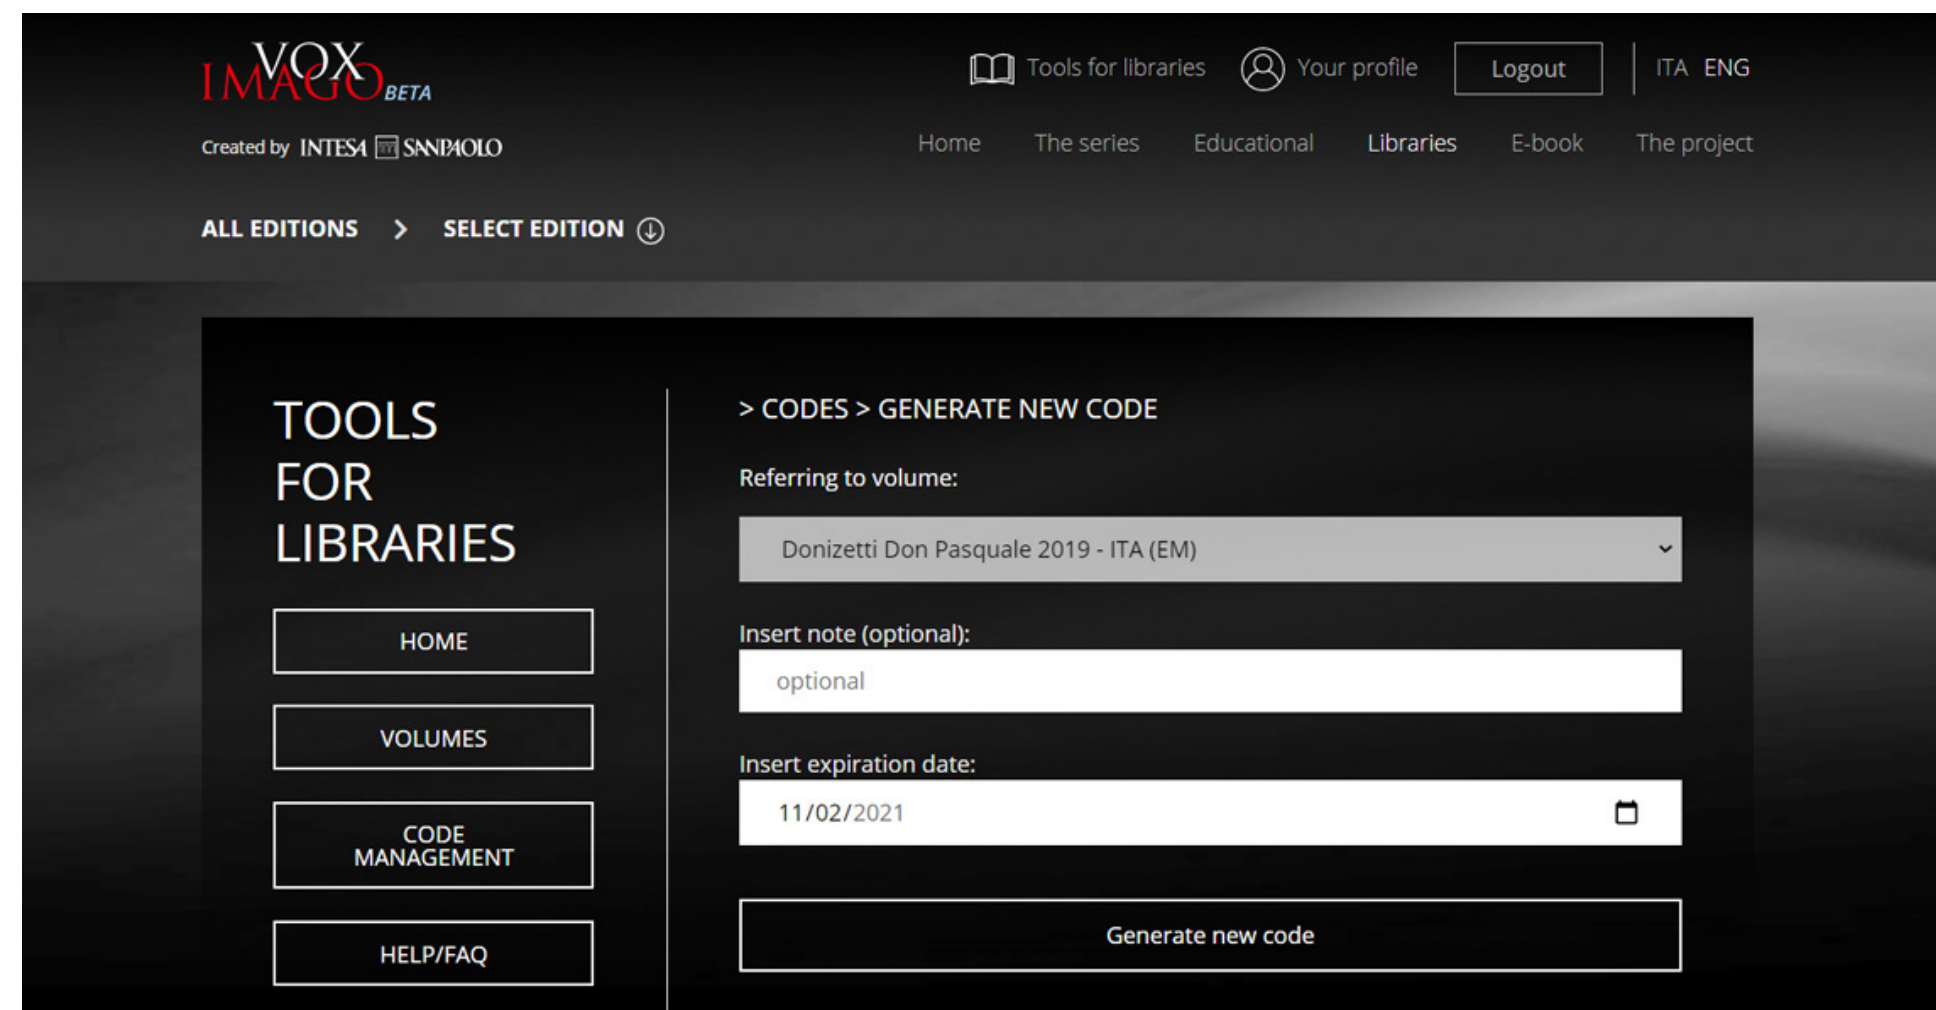

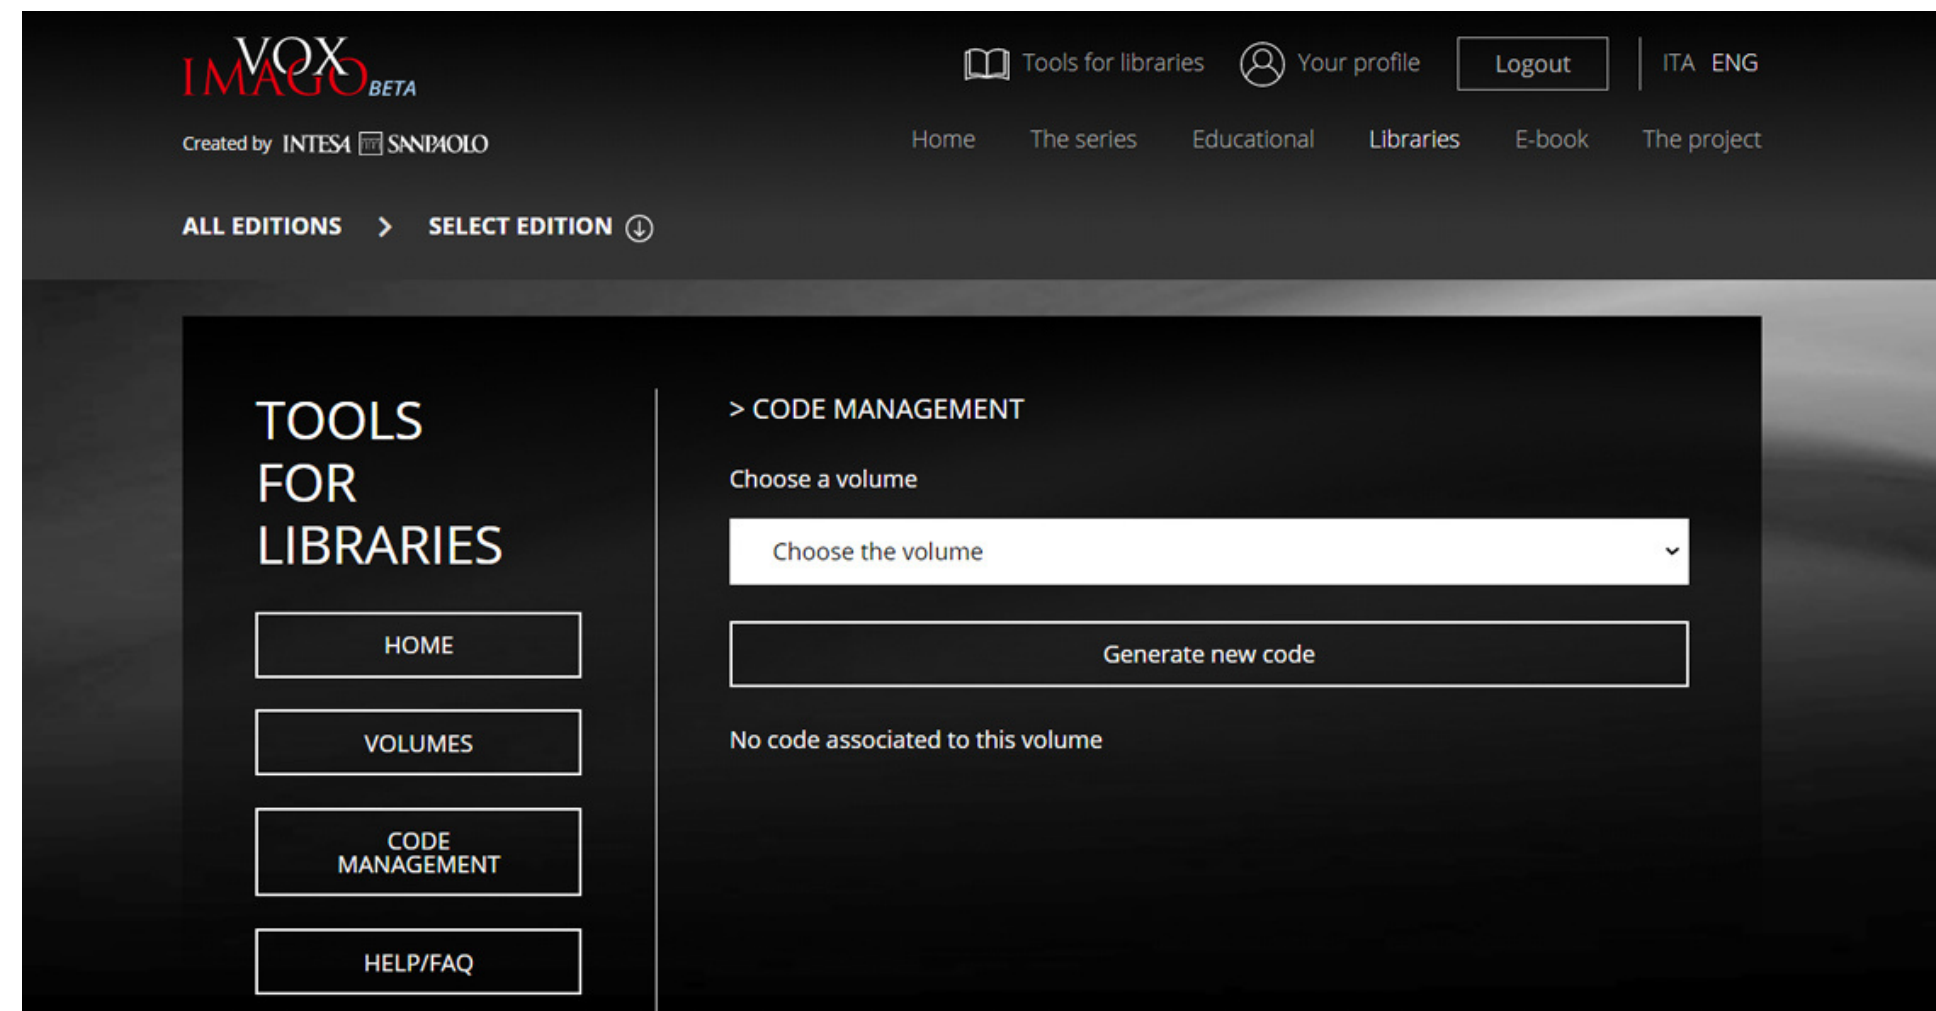

3.

Enter the expiry date of the temporary code by using the calendar

4.

Fill in all the fields and click on “Create new code”

The newly created code will appear in the first column of the temporary code summary table and can be delivered to the user.

The expiry date of the code is shown in the third column. In the fourth column you can check the status of the code.

The screenshot shows the VOX IMAGO BETA web interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the logo 'VOX IMAGO BETA' and 'Created by INTESA SANPAOLO'. On the right, there are links for 'Tools for libraries', 'Your profile', 'Logout', and language options 'ITA ENG'. Below this, there are navigation links: 'Home', 'The series', 'Educational', 'Libraries', 'E-book', and 'The project'. A breadcrumb trail shows 'ALL EDITIONS > SELECT EDITION'. The main content area is titled 'TOOLS FOR LIBRARIES' and contains four buttons: 'HOME', 'VOLUMES', 'CODE MANAGEMENT', and 'HELP/FAQ'. To the right, the 'EDIT CODE' form is displayed. It includes a dropdown menu for 'Referring to volume:' with the selected value 'Donizetti Don Pasquale 2019 - ITA (EM)'. Below that is a text input field for 'Insert note (optional):' containing 'Mario Rossi'. Another field for 'Insert expiration date:' shows '08/12/2020' with a calendar icon. At the bottom of the form is a 'Save and update data' button.

Using the icons in the last column you can:

EDIT the notes associated with the code or the expiry date

CHANGE THE STATUS OF THE CODE, which may be: valid, in use, expired or invalidated

The code may be:

VALID: the code is ready for use but the user has not yet paired it to their account.

IN USE: the user has already entered the code in their profile and is browsing the site and accessing all the contents of Vox Imago.

INVALIDATED: regardless of its expiry date, the librarian can for any reason decide to make the code no longer valid.

EXPIRED: on reaching the expiry date indicated when it was created, the code is no longer valid.

PLEASE NOTE

If you accidentally invalidate a code, don't worry. Just click on the button again to reactivate the code.

If you have any questions, consult the HELP/FAQ section.
